"God a Person." This sounds like a very unimportant subject, but is it? As a man believes, so he does. Some make him a great first cause, who "Blew on the Abyss" and then went off and left the world in charge of a lot of little gods called natural laws. Others make him magic. Still others make him a sort of an ether of which everything is a part. The Christian idea is that God is a person.

Leaves Boundary for Wrangell in Rowboat in November-Is Last Heard of Him.

Louis Dixon, deputy collector of customs for the Canadian government at the port known as Boundary, has been dead more than two months.

Last week the Sentinel stated that officials of the Canadian government had become apprehensive as to the safety of Mr. Dixon. This apprehension was occasioned by Mr. Dixon's non arrival in Prince Rupert where he was to have spent the winter in the office of the Collector of Customs at that port, returning to Boundary at the opening of navigation in the spring.

At the suggestion of the Canadian officials Mr. Bronson, the American deputy collector of customs at Wrangell, last week sent a party to Boundary to learn whether Mr. Dixon was safe. Charles Roos and J. McCullough, who made the trip returned yesterday bringing the sad news that Mr. Dixon had undoubtedly perished. The following letter from Wm. Strong who is trapping in the vicinity of Boundary tells the story:

Boundary,
February 19, 1918.

F. E. Bronson, Esq.

Dear Mr. Bronson:

Your party, C. O. Roos and J. McCullough, arrived yesterday. I was very much surprised on learning their errand.

Last November I was at Boundary, November 25, and saw Dixon. He then had packed up to go to Wrangell. He had about two days' food, coal oil, bedding, etc., and was going down in the Hazel B II's row boat. I then went out to Cassiar (mouth of Iskoot) and returned to Boundary in December. Dixon had left, and apparently on November 28, as he had written up his diary to that day. His last entry reads:

'At last, three inches of snow during last night, the kind that stays. Overcast this morning, but think will start for Wrangell. Off at 9:30.'

Evidently he left as intended. He informed me previously that he would camp at Shake's cabin first night.

There is evidently no doubt that he has been wrecked in a snag pile or carried away by a wind. Nothing can be done very well toward finding him until the very early part of the river opening. The river is then low and the boat may show up. At present the snow covers everything up, at least eight feet of snow being over everything.

I am much distressed at hearing of his non arrival at Wrangell. I hope to be down in about four weeks.

With best regards,
Yours sincerely,
W. STRONG.

In addition to the news contained in the above letter Mr. Roos reports that it is practically certain that Mr. Dixon camped the first night at Shakes' cabin. There is evidence of a meal having been eaten. An empty tomato can was on the table where the meal was eaten.

The death of Louis Dixon ends the career of a man whose loss will be mourned throughout the Cassiar.

He was a man of learning, probably over sixty years of age. In his early life he was publisher of an influential newspaper in Halifax. While following journalism he took an active interest in politics and was a lieutenant of Sir Robert Borden, the present Canadian premier. And it may be that Borden would not be where he is today had it not been for Dixon's support at a time when his support meant a great deal.

Mr. Dixon fought with the expedition which put down the last Louis Riel rebellion which occurred in 1885, and came out with the rank of colonel. He also received a medal for his bravery.

Mr. Dixon had been in the Cassiar for many years. He was for a time a factor for the Hudson's Bay Company, and was also interested in various mining projects. He was one of three parties who sold the Devil's Elbow property to its present owners.

Mr. Dixon was a man with depth of intellect and strength of character. He had many strong friends. Last week when it was learned at Telegraph Creek that Mr. Dixon had not reached Prince Rupert J. Frank Callbreath and Dr. Rice both sent telegrams to Mr. Bronson asking that a party be sent to Boundary at once, regardless of expense, to ascertain what was the matter. However, Mr. Bronson had sent out a party before the telegrams were received.

It is not known if the Canadian government will make any further investigation.

Hon John Rustgard, vice chairman of the Territorial Council of National Defense, spoke at the Rink Friday evening on "The Causes of the War and Its Object." The address was one of the most forceful ever delivered in Wrangell and made a deep impression on the audience. Were the Sentinel's facilities not so limited we should publish the address in full. It could be read and reread with profit.

Mayor Matheson, Postmaster J. W. Stedman and Dr. C. H. Upton, members of the Local Exemption Board No. 8, are displaying on the lapels of their coats the new badge of office, the U. S. Selective Service emblem. The pin is in the form of a three cornered shield of bronze with the words "Selective Service U. S." emblazoned thereon, underneath which rests a row of stars, and a row of stripes. The pins came from Provost Marshal General Crowder and are being worn all over the country by members of the Selective Service Boards.

Fred Matson this week delivered 200 piles to Ole Ottesen for the Alaska Packers' Association.

The steamship Admiral Watson which is now on the Puget Sound-California run, will be put on the Seattle-Southeastern Alaska route on March 8. This information is contained in a circular letter received by the Sentinel from General Manager A. F. Haines of the Pacific Steamship company.

All Moose are requested to meet at the hall promptly at 7 o'clock Friday evening in order that the meeting may be hurried through so that all may attend the Firemen's ball.

Postmaster Stedman reports that the sales of Thrift Stamps are increasing. Last month's sales amounted to $133.

GIVE EACH CHILD SOMETHING TO DO

Here is a suggestion for a saving plan for the household—one that is tangible and easy to follow. Let parents organize their tots into home War Savings Groups so that the children can earn their pennies and not have them donated to them—by keeping their rooms in order, doing the dishes, running errands, dusting, etc.

By earning their pennies in some definite and regular manner and then purchasing Thrift Stamps with them, children will gain in the spirit of self-denial, they will become conscious of rendering a real service to their Government and the habits of Thrift thus formed will prove helpful to them as long as they live.

The American-Reveille of Bellingham, Wash., of the issue of February 12, published the nuptials of Freddie F. Lewis of Wrangell and Miss (everybody in town knows who) also of Wrangell. The wedding occurred in the court house at Bellingham at 11:30 a. m. on Monday, Feb. 11 (The bride was visiting friends on Puget Sound which accounts for the wedding having taken place Outside, and unexpectedly to members of her own family.) Freddie F. Lewis is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Lewis, a respected family of Wrangell who have lived here many years. Mr. Lewis having been born in this vicinity. Freddie Lewis has grown up in Wrangell and has a host of friends both old and young, but the young ones are temporarily "sore" on him because he is too far away to have his connubial bliss disturbed by their tin can poundings and other equally hideous forms of nocturnal annoyance. Freddie's marriage is reported to be the outcome of a romance that had its beginning in Wrangell five years ago when the bride was only twelve years of age. A stereotyped phrase often used in connection with a marriage is to say that it is the "culmination of a romance" of a certain number of years. months, weeks, days or minutes as the case may be. But in this case, in view of certain rumors, we hesitate to use the word culmination. However, we expect soon to be able to report whether it a case of culmination, consummation, ratification, or abrogation.

First Aid Notice

The supplies for the First Aid have arrived. A meeting has been called for next Monday, February 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the school house.

At this meeting the work will be outlined and lessons will be assigned. It is urgently requested that all who plan to take the work attend this first meeting in order to get started with the class.

ALASKANS WILL BE CALLED BY CLASSIFICATION

Order Numbers Will Be Taken from Master List and Called According to Classifications

HUNT'S STATEMENT

Draft Men from Alaska May Start Moving to Training Camps Within Next 60 Days

Considerable speculation has been occasioned over the fact that registration boards in Alaska were assigned order numbers for draft from the master list prepared at Washington, before the questionnaires have been sent out and the men registered given their proper classifications according to their returns, says the Empire. The question was referred to Capt. J. T. Hunt and he answered to the effect that although the order number was assigned, the men would still be called according to classifications.

Should a man's order number be among the ones to be called first, and should he come under one of the deferred classifications, when issuing their call the local boards would skip his number until all numbers of preceding classifications had been exhausted.

Captain Hunt said that in his opinion the draft men from Alaska would start moving south within the next sixty days, although there was nothing authentic about that. The draft quota from Alaska will amount to about 550. The original quota was over seven hundred, but credit has been given for practically 150 who have enlisted from Alaska, and whose cards are in the possession of the local boards. Men from the Interior and Nome sections, who may be certified for service will not be required to report for training until after the opening of navigation.

The statement of Captain Hunt follows:

"The Master List consists of a drawing of numbers from 1 to 10,500 inclusive, which was made in Washington under the direction of the Secretary of War, and in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the President. A schedule of this list, containing all of such numbers, arranged in the exact order in which they were drawn, was prepared by the Provost Marshal General. The first number drawn was placed at the top of column one of the Master List, and this order was followed until all of the numbers drawn were compiled in the exact order in which they were drawn. Part 11, page 199, Selective Service Regulations, provides as follows:

"The Master List controls and determines the exact order in which the persons whose registration cards are in the possession of the respective local boards or may hereafter be received by said local board are liable to be called by the local board for military service.

"Immediately upon receipt of these regulations place a check mark after every number in the Master List which at the present time appears in the 'Serial Number' column on Form 102."

"Thus, it is seen, the new Selective Service Regulations presupposed the fact that the order numbers had been determined under the old regulations, as Form 102 is the official form for listing the order numbers as determined thereunder. But the order numbers having not been assigned in Alaska, at the time the new regulations became effective, there was no course left open for the boards in the Territory except to determine the order numbers by comparison of the serial number list with the Master List, as provided in part 11 and sections 68 and 69 of the new regulations.

"This assignment of numbers takes the place of the formal drawing under the old regulations, the list compiled from the original drawing held at Washington being deemed to be equivalent to a general drawing of all numbers corresponding therewith in the possession of every board throughout the United States. The order in which these numbers were drawn, together with the class number of the registrant, determines the order in which each man is required to report for military duty.

"By way of illustration, supposing that the registrant who holds the first number drawn is classified, when his questionnaire is returned in Class 1, he will be the first man called by his board for military duty, and supposing that the second registrant whose number was drawn by the same board, being Order No. 2, is classified in Class 2 when his questionnaire is returned, the board would skip over him when it calls its quota for service, and call the next number classified in Class 1. In this way, all registrants in Class 1 will be called and examined as to their classifications for military service, before any of the registrants in Class 2 are called. Then all of the registrants in Class 2 would be called in the order in which their numbers appear on the order number list, before those in Class 3 are called, and so on, until Class 5 is reached which is a permanent deferred classification, being equivalent to permanent exemption or discharge.

"In other words the group of registrants within the jurisdiction of each local board is taken to be the unit to be classified. Within each class the order of liability is determined by the drawing, the order number being the distinguishing mark which identifies each registrant for service in the same classification, while those of the lowest classifications are called first and those of the higher classifications called in the order in which they are reached after all preceding classifications are exhausted.

Dr. W. J. Pigg was aboard the City of Seattle Monday night en route to Washington, D. C., where he has been ordered to report. Since disposing of his hospital at Wrangell Dr. Pigg has been at Petersburg and made many friends there. When it was learned in Petersburg that Dr. Pigg had been ordered to Washington his friends planned a surprise banquet for him at which he was presented with a beautiful scarf pin and a pair of cuff buttons, the three pieces of jewelry being of the same set.

"I am saving for America" is the headline of an ad on the last page of this issue. A country that is worth fighting for is worth saving for. No amount is too small to lend to your country. Read the ad; then buy War Savings Stamps.

Mrs. Henry Hull and children arrived on the City of Seattle Friday from Bellingham.

CABLE NEWS

TUESDAY, FEB. 19

BERLIN.—Operations have been resumed on the Russian front, the Germans having crossed the Dvina.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The validity of the Workmen's Compensation act of Alaska was upheld by the Circuit court of appeals in a decision affirming an award of $1440 under the act, to J. W. Johnson, a miner for the Kennecott Company, for the loss of a foot.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Negotiations for an agreement between the Alaska Packers' Association and the Alaska Fishermen's Union on the new wage agreement reached a deadlock when J. K. Arnsley, head of the Packers, threatened to turn the packing over to the government rather than agree to the demands of the employees. The difference was later submitted to the food administration for settlement.

PETROGRAD.—General Kaledines committed suicide at Novo Telikash, headquarters of the Don Cossacks, during session of the Novo Telikash government which he attended.

LONDON.—Another German aeroplane raid over the city last night failed. No casualties; no damage.

PETROGRAD.—No trade relations with Germany possible, the Foreign office declared. The Germans will get food only when they revolt and join the Russian proletariat.

PETROGRAD.—Trotzky, addressing the Bolshevik executive committee outlined for the first time the peace terms of Germany which Russia refused. They included the retention of Poland, Lithuanian Riga, and Moon Island and four billion dollars indemnity.

SEATTLE.—Primaries are being held today. Hanson appears to be certain of the mayoralty nomination. Indications are that Gill will be second in the race.

SEATTLE.—Just before midnight Ralph A. Horn, one of the mayoralty candidates was shot in his office by one of two unknown men, both escaping. The bullet entered over the heart passing out in the armpit. Wound not dangerous.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE.—The great German offensive on the Western Front may be expected at any moment. As far as the British are concerned the main thrust is to be made on the sector between Arras and St. Quentin. Tanks of new and mysterious gas to be employed by the enemy are being delivered near where the offensive is expected to be made. These facts have become known through captured German prisoners and from information gleaned in other ways.

BERLIN.—War office today issued an official statement declaring the movements of the army on the eastern front. "Called to help Ukraine, we are advancing from the direction of Kovel."

If the Territorial Council of Defense accomplishes nothing more than sending the Hon. John Rustgard out on a speaking tour it has done enough to more than justify its existence. Mr. Rustgard's speech in Wrangell on "The Causes of the War and Its Object" was one of the most forceful and convincing addresses to which we have ever listened. Mr. Rustgard drives home facts in a masterly way that cannot fail to stimulate loyalty and patriotism.

CABLE NEWS

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 20

AMSTERDAM.—We can no longer believe in the pacific intentions of Russia and we must see that peace and order prevail in the occupied regions in adjoining countries. Foreign minister Kuellmann in addressing the Reichstag main committee said he hoped that Germany's new war with Russia would strengthen inclination for peace in Petrograd.

PETROGRAD.—The demobilization of the Russian army and fleet has been stopped, it was announced at noon today. Russian troops have been ordered to resist the German advance and to evacuate their positions only when necessary, destroying property as they fall back.

BERLIN.—Official communication says that from Riga to as far south as Lusk the German armies are advancing eastward into Russia. German forces have entered Dvinsk. The Russians unsuccessfully attempted to blow up the bridge across the Dvina river.

TOKIO.—Two thousand were killed and injured in an earthquake which practically destroyed the Chinese city Swatow, according to a message from Hongkong.

LONDON.—Naval airmen continue to bombard the docks and aerodromes in Belgium and have accounted for four aeroplanes, the admiralty announced.

HELENA.—Moutana ratified the prohibition amendment.

WASHINGTON.—The allied military leaders here are informed that the entente are now superior to the Teutons on the Western front both in men and guns and are ready for any blow.

WASHINGTON.—The greatest appropriation in the history of Congress is being framed by the House Military Affairs committee for work of the War department during the next fiscal year. The present estimates place the total at seven billions.

SEATTLE.—Hanson and Bradford will be nominated. Gill a poor third. Hanson polled probably twice as many as Bradford. Organized labor backed Bradford.

SEATTLE.—Hanson's plurality is 12,505. While the polls were open there was considerable activity in behalf of Gill, and even his opponents believed he was making a good race. When the votes were counted, it was found that Gill had received only 3,124 votes.

AMSTERDAM.—In an address before the Reichstag at Vienna the Austrian premier declared that under the peace treaty with Ukraine there had been placed at the disposal, or rather subject to the call of the Central powers Ukraine's surplus agricultural products. This surplus, the premier asserted would be greater than the Central powers could transport.

ROME.—It is reported here that the German spring offensive expected on the Western front would be diverted at the eleventh hour to the Italian front where the Austrians would be compelled to yield unless they receive aid.

WASHINGTON.—Senator Chamberlain was today operated upon for appendicitis.

LONDON.—An extensive raid was carried out by the British last night in the Flanders front.
